

HEIGHT

Placing vertical elements in the background is very useful to close the scene from behind. The vertical element gives a sense of depth to the scene. The scene achieves even more appeal with many different levels. Three height levels are superb.

